

DANIELSON AND PUTNAM NEWS

DANIELSON

Domestic action was taken Thursday to suppress the carrying of Jamaica ginger in stocks of groceries and other lines of goods in stores in the town of Killingly. Following raids at Attawaugan and Ballouville by Deputy Sheriff Chas. E. Ayer and State Officers Arthur W. Williams and Merrill Keith, Henry Keamaler and Albert E. Gay of Attawaugan and Peter Massey of Ballouville pleaded guilty to charges of keeping with intent to sell land all were heavily fined.

In the day's clean-up the officers seized a still and five quarts of some kind of Scotch as the home of Edward Provencen at Ballouville. Provencen, who did not happen to be at home at the time of the raid, was searched for through several communities hereabouts and finally located by the Putnam police, who held him for the raiding officers.

Two raids following indignant complaints that jakey was being made available in Attawaugan and Ballouville under conditions contrary to law.

At the Keamaler place the officers searched the dwelling house and found a large cache of Jamaica ginger in casks and cases in a room that was locked. Thirty-six dozen bottles were seized at this place. At Gay's store 18 bottles were taken and at the Massey place in Ballouville 31 more bottles.

All of the dealers had permits to land Jamaica ginger, and it was represented that the sheriff was being illegitimately. It was pointed out, however, that a law which became effective last July makes the permit null and void, and that it is now illegal to sell the law to keep Jamaica ginger as it was found at Attawaugan. Leave the charges the three defendants pleaded guilty. Charge the three defendants pleaded guilty.

Feet Drag?

When it is an effort to drag one foot after the other, when you are always tired and seem lacking in strength and endurance, when aches and pains rack the body, it is well to look for symptoms of kidney trouble.

Foley Kidney Pills

banish effects of kidney and bladder trouble by removing the cause. They are healing and active. They tone up and strengthen the weakened or diseased organs. They relieve backache, rheumatic pains, stiff joints, sore muscles.

W. W. Wells, Tunbridge, Mich., writes: "I got great relief from taking Foley Kidney Pills. I am on my feet most of the time and get tired out. After taking Foley Kidney Pills, there's no need for a new man. I recommend them to my customers and never have heard of any case where they did not give satisfaction."

crowd in the football game to be played here this afternoon between Plainfield and Killingly high school teams.

There were no developments Thursday pertaining to the Miller murder case excepting that state police officers have recovered the hatchet, with which young Skinner, held at Brooklyn jail, says he killed Miller. The hatchet is of small type.

Rain again prevented the milk-drinking party that was to have been held in front of the Attawaugan hotel Thursday noon, but the youngsters were not disappointed of their treat, for William S. Brown, who gave them the milk, took it to the graded school building where it was distributed and disposed of, the young people relishing the treat immensely.

There will be no observance of Armistice day in an official way by veterans' organizations in Danielson this year, it was announced Thursday morning following a meeting of the local post of the American Legion. The promise is for a very quiet holiday in Danielson, though flags will be displayed and other formal notice taken of the day.

At a point just west of South Killingly the excavating for the new state highway has uncovered the conduct of the underground line of the A. T. and T. company along a route where the cable ran through what was a field. The cable will be retained in a new location.

Red Cross workers will begin today (Friday) on the annual roll call. Several hundred members are desired in the town of Killingly, where a good percentage of the money obtained will be retained in carrying on relief work for the unfortunate.

The supply of water for operating wheels at manufacturing plants along the Quinebaug river has been materially increased by the rains of Wednesday and Thursday.

A noon hour service is to be held at the Methodist church today for all expressed by the significance of Armistice day and what it means, particularly this year.

Many were at the Methodist church Thursday evening to hear the address of Prof. Wilkinson of Wesleyan university, who spoke here relative to disarmament under the auspices of the Danielson federation of churches.

Bankruptcy proceedings are now under way pertaining to the business of Irving Leiter, who was proprietor of a shoe store in the Bradford building in Center street.

At St. James' church today there will be special services in observance of Armistice day and a large number of the parishioners will make it a point to attend this event.

J. C. Witter and N. A. Witter are to leave for Hartford today (Friday) to conduct an important auction sale in that city.

There was a drill for members of the service battery at the state armory Thursday evening.

PUTNAM

All is ready for the celebration of Armistice day. Decorating work was completed Thursday and the parade throughout the business section, is in gala attire for the third anniversary of the end of fighting "over there."

The parade that is to be the main feature of today's observance is to be formed in Union square and will leave that point promptly at 2 p. m. Children of the schools of the city will participate in the parade, which will pass over a route previously outlined in this paper.

No parking will be allowed in Union square or on Main street during the parade in which the parade will be moving. Parking will be allowed only on one side of streets through which the parade will pass. These are the streets where the parade will pass.

At Pomfret this morning the observance of Armistice day will include the dedication of a bonfire bearing a tablet in honor of the Putnam boys who served during the world war. A considerable number of the ex-service men resident in this city will be in the neighborhood town for this event.

Walter Frink of Moseley, driver of a motor vehicle said to be owned by the United States Fidelity company, which has a plant at Sterling, has been ordered to appear in the Putnam city court for operating the machine under what is known as an "O" or public service registration plate, whereas the vehicle was in use for commercial purposes and should have borne a commercial registration, the police say. It is explained, however, that the truck formerly was in use as a "bus" and that the registration plates were not changed over when it was put into service as a truck.

Lateral action for damages may result, it was stated here Thursday, over publication in this city of an article in which it is intimated that state police officers recently caused the arrest and subsequent prosecution in Eastford not through honest desire to punish a violation of the law, but through personal spite and for a chance to obtain a fee for petty officers.

The article in question was called to the attention of the head of a state department in Hartford Thursday and the police are said to have had may result in interesting developments.

The first local delegation team to come into Windham county in the interest of the Y. M. C. A. county movement will be in Thompson Nov. 26-27. The three young men who make up this team are students at Wesleyan university. Secretary John H. Corbett of the county association has arranged for 12 such teams to come into this county during the winter and spring. They will visit different towns and the various communities in them. Secretary Corbett says that anyone interested in having one of the teams pay his place a visit should get into communication with him.

Rev. John Stoddard will be toastmaster at this (Friday) evening's Father and Son banquet at the Baptist church. The banquet hour is set for 6:30. Our boys are Great to Be Their Fathers, will be the toast to which Attorney Ernest C. Morse will respond. Our Dads—It's Great to Be Their Sons, is the toast to which Leroy Ames will respond. Comrades—How to Become One, will be the subject of Secretary J. H. Corbett of the Y. M. C. A. S. Simey Hayward will speak on The State Boys' Conference—What It Meant to Me. An address on Who is to Be the Father of My Son? will be given by J. B. Thwing of New Haven. Music will be by the Baptist Sunday school orchestra. Miss Esther Rouse will play violin solo.

The annual meeting of the delegation from the different localities of the New England Milk Producers' association in the county will be held at the rooms of the Windham County Farmers' association, Putnam, at 10 a. m. Nov. 19th. Carl A. Smith, district manager of the northern district, will give those present an idea of what the N. E. M. P. A. has been doing in its marketing work during the past year. This meeting is exceedingly important, as far as the milk shippers of Windham county are concerned. The county agent is co-operating with John R. Stromberg, county president, and John E. Tanner, secretary, in arranging for the meeting. The locals that should be represented at this gathering are Ashford, Danielson, East Woodstock, Hampton, Plainfield, Pomfret, Putnam, Scotland, South Windham, Brooklyn.

Following raids for moonshiners and those carrying illegitimately Jamaica ginger in stock in stores at Attawaugan and Ballouville, search for the alleged owner of a still taken at Ballouville extended over the boundary line into Putnam Thursday morning. Deputy Sheriff Charles E. Ayer and state police officers made the Killingly raids and they have recovered the hatchet, with which young Skinner, held at Brooklyn jail, says he killed Miller. The hatchet is of small type.

In accordance with orders received from Washington, a holiday schedule of hours will be observed by postoffices in this territory today (Friday). Morning deliveries will be made by the city carriers and the rural service will be suspended.

Next Monday brings the republican city caucus at which the party's candidates for mayor, alderman-at-large, collector of taxes, city treasurer, an auditor and registrar of voters will be named. The democratic city caucus is scheduled for next Tuesday evening.

Flags will be sold to Armistice day crowds in this city and the Salvation Army kettle will be set in a prominent place to receive contributions with which to purchase markers to be placed on the graves of 22 world war veterans who are buried in Putnam cemetery. The markers cost $4 each. It is believed that the crowd will respond generously to the call to buy the modest markers for the graves of those who gave their lives for the country's sake.

The city council has adopted an ordinance regulating the installation of gasoline pumps on the village of Putnam. This ordinance requires that a permit be obtained before any such installation is made and requires the chief of police to make no inspection of the proposed location for the pump before a permit is granted.

William S. Johnson left here Thursday for Tampa, where he is to remain for the winter season. Mr. Johnson will visit at various points in Florida during his stay and may take a trip to Bermuda.

Stewart D. Fisher is to leave this city to take up new duties as superintendent of the Narragansett Cotton Mills, Inc., manufacturing plant in Narragansett, R. I., assuming his place there next Monday.

Monday. Mr. Fisher has been with the Manchester Manufacturing company of this city and formerly with the Putnam Manufacturing company.

Edward Provencen of Ballouville was taken into custody here Thursday afternoon by Captain J. H. Bulger and held for Danielson officers. He was taken to Danielson during the afternoon and fined $100 and costs of $30.77 for operating a still, which was seized.

Fayette L. Wright, who left Pomfret Thursday to spend the winter at Clearwater, Fla., has orange groves in the southern state. His son, who has been in the south for eight years, is in charge of the grove.

Putnam chapter of the American Red Cross will start actual work on the annual roll call today (Friday). Miss Ellen Wheelock is roll call chairman. Her assistants are: Ward 1, Miss Alice Carpenter; Ward 2, Mrs. D. R. Gilbert and Mrs. A. L. Mansfield; Ward 3, Miss S. Elizabeth Clark.

Miss Violet A. Gallant recently motored to Hartford with friends.

JEWETT CITY

Arnold P. Brown with his mother, Mrs. Fred S. Brown of Main, Mass., motored to Jewett City Wednesday and spent the night with the latter's son, George Ayer, and his wife. Thursday Mr. and Mrs. Ayer accompanied them to Wakefield, R. I., to attend the funeral of Alexander H. Tucker, a brother-in-law of Mrs. Brown.

Mr. Tucker is remembered by the Jewett City people, as he and Mrs. Tucker were frequent visitors at the Brown home.

The Congregational church choir gave Mrs. Brown a field shower Wednesday night at the home of her sister, Mrs. Alex McNeil. Miss Reid was invited to inspect her new Ford, which proved to be a wheelerbarrow decorated in white. She was seated therein and surrounded with gifts while the bridegroom-elect processed to wheel the "Ford" into the living room. Miss Reid received gifts of well, printed in this column Thursday in china, linen, aluminum ware, candlesticks and boudoir lamp. Sandwiches, cake, ice cream in forms, coffee and confections were served. Games, singing, and Victrola selections were the pastimes of the very enjoyable evening. Miss Reid and Andrew McNeil, superintendent of the Textile Novelty company, are to be married Tuesday. Thursday the employees at the mill through John W. Potts, presented Mr. McNeil $70 in gold.

The young man, who is very popular with his employees, was most appreciative of their gift.

Henry Boardman, superintendent of the Manville, R. I., bleachery, who was found beside the road with a fractured skull Monday night, was a former assistant superintendent at Aspinook bleachery. It is supposed that an automobile passing in the dark struck Mr. Boardman. He was taken to the Woonsocket hospital in an unconscious condition. No further news has been received regarding him.

Concerning the recognition of Armistice day, the Youth's Companion says: "The Stars and Stripes should fly from every staff in the country on that day. It would also be a touching and beautiful recognition of the meaning of the day if all the service flags that were displayed so proudly from church or factory or office building or home during the weeks of hard fighting three years ago should be hung out once more to remind us—prone as we are to forget—of all the courage and all the sacrifice and all the devotion to duty that those flags with their stars of blue or of gold symbolized. It would be a simple thing to do; it would ask a minimum of effort from any one person; and yet nothing else would impress more deeply on our hearts the lesson of the day, or yield more graceful tribute to the brave men living and dead, who answered in those trying days the call of their native land."

Mr. Warner had lived here for over 40 years and was esteemed by all who knew him. He was a good-fellow and a good friend, ever willing to help those in need. His death came as a great shock, although he has not felt well since last May, he was up and around until the last. He was injured by a falling tree which dislocated his shoulder and at the same time affected his head, and from this he never recovered. He bore his sufferings as a model Christian.
